

ONE DISPENSARY EVERYWHERE TO SUPPORT THE FUTURE

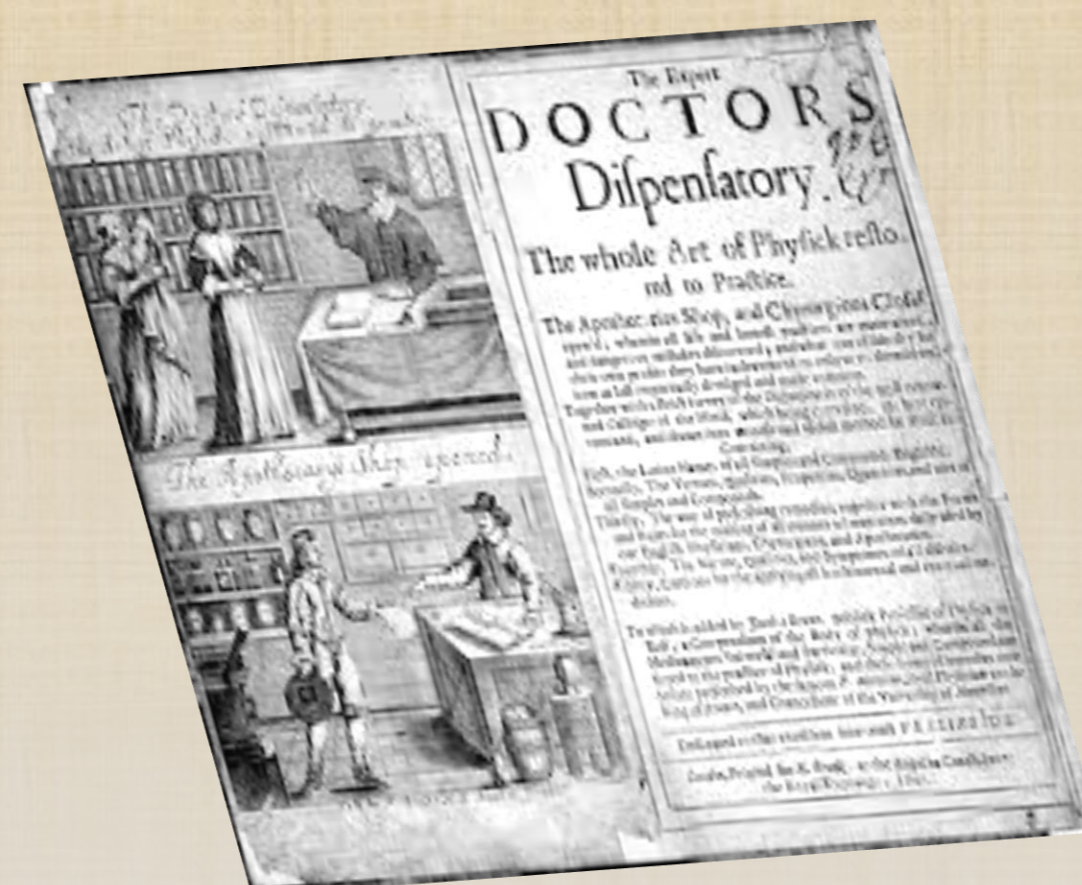

BY DR. ADELAILA EL MASRI

The access to health and education in many development countries has decrease through these last years. The aim is to provided a high standard of care to achieve full health potential.

A dispensary can support physical and mental health of each habitant in the community offering an easy and affordable way to reach doctors for prevent and treat the most common local diseases as well, participate detecting the source of any possible outbreak. At the same time can play an important role in social improving creating a personalized environment where all the members of a family can be assessed with educational activities even their social and economical situation.

Effective implementation of a community-based health services and continuing education of health personal with curriculum and training in dispensary services is crucial to these centers.

As a result the dispensary can provide many benefits to sick and non sick people with an integral evaluation and follow up of their condition.